I. Introduction

1. The General Assembly, in paragraph 1 of its resolution 64/22, called upon all Member States to report annually to the Secretary-General their military expenditures for the latest fiscal year for which data were available using, preferably, and to the extent possible, the reporting instrument as recommended in resolution 35/142 B or, as appropriate, any other format developed in conjunction with similar reporting on military expenditures to other international or regional organizations. Member States that had no information were encouraged to submit nil returns.

II. Action taken

2. On 3 March 2011, the Office for Disarmament Affairs sent a note verbale to Member States requesting them to submit their reports no later than 30 April 2011.[1] The replies received are reproduced in section III below. Any further reports received from Member States will be issued as addenda to the present report.

3. The Office for Disarmament Affairs, in cooperation with the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, published an occasional paper entitled Promoting Further Openness and Transparency in Military Expenditures.[2]

4. The main goal of the occasional paper was to facilitate the deliberations of the Group of Governmental Experts which, from November 2010 to May 2011, reviewed the operation of the Standardized Instrument for Reporting Military Expenditures with a view to its further development.[3]

III. Replies received from Governments

Explanatory notes

5. To date, the Secretary-General has received reports from 49 Governments. A number of States provided clarifications and additional information on defence planning to explain their military expenditures as well as military budgets for 2011 and prospects for the following years. This additional information is available from the Office for Disarmament Affairs.

6. The originals of the replies from States are available through the Office for Disarmament Affairs. The annual reports and other relevant information on the Standardized Instrument for Reporting Military Expenditures are available electronically on the Office website (www.un.org/disarmament/convarms/Milex/html/MilexIndex.shtml).

United Nations Standardized Instrument for Reporting Military Expenditures
(Actual outlays, current prices)

Country: Republic of Serbia Fiscal year: 2010

National currency and unit of measure: thousands of Serbian dinars (RSD)

(The unit of measure should not exceed one ten thousandth of the total military expenditures.)

Information on expenditures for defence for 2010

1. Funds amounting to RSD 67,815.2 million were allocated for the purpose of defence financing for 2010. This amount also included resources for the supplementary financing of military pensions (RSD 22,946.7 million). The earmarked funds exceeded the funds allocated for 2009 (RSD 65,663.7 million) by 3.28 per cent.

2. In 2010, the sum of RSD 67,806.3 million was spent for defence, which amounts to 99.9 per cent of the total earmarked resources. The resources spent for defence were allocated as follows:

- military expenditures — RSD 44,573.8 million (65.7 per cent)
- civil defence — RSD 285.8 million (0.4 per cent)
- military pensions (supplementary financing) — RSD 22,946.7 million (33.9 per cent)

3. The resources for military expenditures (RSD 44,573.8 million) were spent as follows:

(a) operational costs: RSD 40,324.4 million (90.5 per cent), including RSD 23,433.2 million for salaries and reimbursements/allowance for the employees in the Serbian Armed Forces and the Ministry of Defense and RSD 14,993.8 million for regular sustenance, which includes logistic support, training and other tasks within the scope of regular activities;

(b) procurement and construction: RSD 4,193.1 million (9.4 per cent), including RSD 3,089.3 million for armaments and military equipment and RSD 1,103.8 million for construction and maintenance of military facilities;

(c) research and development: RSD 56.3 million (0.1 per cent).

4. The largest portion of the resources is appropriated for regular activities and salaries (90.5 per cent), which significantly limits the resources for armaments and military equipment, construction of military facilities and flats and research and development. The procurement of more modern and more complex technical systems is impossible, and available resources are limited to general overhaul and minor technical upgrades and the procurement of ammunition and movables for general purposes. As a result, the SAF inevitably lags behind neighbouring countries in technical terms. There is a similar situation in the military construction field, where the funds were used for construction, the purchase of buildings and facilities and for capital maintenance. It was a priority to spend funds on better working conditions for employees; housing, however, was neglected owing to insufficient funds. The impossibility of resolving the housing issues of the Serbian Armed Forces and the Ministry of Defense members within the earmarked budget has been a significant problem for years. The Government therefore adopted a master plan, to ensure resources by selling surplus real estate and movables, to be used for financing the reform of the Ministry and the purchase of flats for members of the Serbian Armed Forces and the Ministry of Defense.

5. In 2010, the expenditures for the procurement of equipment and for the general overhaul and upgrading of armaments and military equipment amounted to RSD 3,089.3 million, and thus are lower than the 2009 amount by RSD 4,394.9 million.

6. A modest 0.1 per cent of the total amount spent on military expenditures was used for research and development, which is below the real need.

Military expenditures for fiscal year 2010
(in millions of United States dollars at current prices; for fiscal year ending 30 September)

Military expenditures (actual outlays) are of the individual military departments (Army, Navy, Air Force) and the defence agencies within the Department of Defense, as well as of the Department of Energy (for defence nuclear programmes) and the Department of Homeland Security (for defence-related activities). Civil defence expenditures are for non-defence-related activities from the Department of Homeland Security budget since fiscal year 2002. (Prior to fiscal year 1995, civil defence expenditures were from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) budget.)

These expenditures are entered for each force group in the United Nations Instrument as follows:

Strategic forces (column 1):	These forces do not have a separate service or military department in the United States; therefore, spending data are not readily available for them. All resources for strategic offensive, defensive and command, control and communications forces are contained in the budgets of the Air Force, Navy and Army.
Army forces (column 2):	The budget of the Department of the Army.
Navy/Marine forces (column 3):	The budget of the Department of the Navy, including the Navy and the Marine Corps.
Air forces (column 4):	The budget of the Department of the Air Force.
Other combat forces (column 5):	Not applicable: all active and reserve military forces are financed from the above military service budgets.
Central support and administration:
Agencies (column 6):	The budgets of defence agencies (Office of the Secretary of Defense, Defense Logistics Agency, Defense Information Systems Agency, Defense Contract Audit Agency, etc.) that provide defence-wide support and general administration.
Other (column 7):	Special defence-wide programmes that do not normally fall under military departments or defence agencies (e.g., environmental restoration, support of World Games, etc.).
Paramilitary (column 8):	Not applicable.
Military assistance:
Home (column 9):	Not applicable.
Abroad (column 10):	The budget category "international security assistance" in the budget of the United States Government for fiscal year 2012, including foreign military financing, economic support fund and other programmes.

United Nations (column 11):	Includes outlays for support of United Nations peacekeeping forces.
Undistributed (column 12):	Department of Energy, including outlays for the National Nuclear Security Administration, environmental and other defence activities. Since fiscal year 2002, also includes Department of Homeland Security outlays for defence-related activities, including Coast Guard and infrastructure protection and information security.
Civil defence (column 14):	Beginning fiscal year 2002: Department of Homeland Security outlays, excluding defence-related outlays which are included in military expenditures. Prior to 1995: FEMA programmes that received separate funding for civil defence activities. (FEMA did not programme separate funding for civil defence activities from 1995 forward. FEMA was incorporated into the new Department of Homeland Security in 2002.)
